From the President—

Fall has arrived and the temperature has finally cooled off a bit. Good time to start thinking about finding those grave sites of our lost love ones. Cold weather is just around the corner.

Word from the Richard H. Thornton Library, the conference rooms at the library will be closed to the public until further notice due to Covid mandates. The North Carolina Room is open for you to do your research.

New hours for the library are as follows:

Monday – Thursday 9:00 am – 8:00 pm

Friday 9:00 am – 5:00 pm

Saturday 10:00 am – 5:00 pm

Sunday CLOSED

As I had posted on Facebook and the newspapers earlier in September that the Journal would be delayed due to problems beyond our control is putting it mildly. Our Journal editor Allen Dew suffered a severe accident which put him out of commission until early December. Hopefully it will not be too much longer before it will come out.

A reminder, if you have hunters in your family get them to keep an eye out for cemeteries while they are hunting. We want to find as many as we can find. Get some idea where they are located and if there is a tombstone there get the information from the stone such as name date of birth and date of death. This would help in finding if we have already catalogued the cemetery. It is better to have more information than not enough. Another note if you have a cell phone with them get the GPS and this will give us the exact location and be easy to find.

Well, I had a birthday since the last Journal came out and I have never felt so loved in all of my life. Never would I have thought that I would get over sixty birthday cards with personal messages in each one, but some of my friends in Texas got together and they decided to surprise me with cards. One even called and sung happy birthday to me. To top it off I received over 200 messages on Facebook wishing me a happy birthday. The phone stayed busy all day and my two children took me out to dinner to help me celebrate my ninety second birthday. That is one day that I will never forget. I am very thankful to have lived to reach ninety- two.

We had a meeting in July and August this summer. In July we had as our speaker Peggy Johnson, a Granville County, Oxford native and she gave a very interesting talk on “Women of the South.”

Then in August we had our “Show and Tell” program, which is always a hit. One Granville County guy brought a pedigree chart of his Blackwell Family to the meeting and the information on this chart was what I had been looking to find for over twenty years. Needless to say, there was a copy in our North Carolina Room. I never thought to look at the many charts in the North Carolina Room. So now I can fill in a lot of information on my family who married into the Blackwell Family. The information on this chart was researched by Violet Coats, who was employed at the library before her retirement.

It is always nice to find more branches of your family tree. I am so thankful so many of them are in Granville County. Well let me get back to looking at the chart to see how many more are married into the Currin family.

Will sign off for now as Allen might be waiting on this message for the “Journal”.

Happy Researching..... Mildred

Reaves / Reeves - Part II

by: James R. Smith

Part two covers the children of the first William Reaves and his wife, Margaret. For lack of birth dates we will use the appearance of the boys in the records as owners of land or in references in Court Minutes for they had to be 21 to qualify; thus establishing birth sequence. By tradition, most of the chain bearers for surveys were younger sons down to age 16 of the person buying the land. This helps to separate fathers and sons of same name.

William Reaves, Jr.: On 9 July 1738 he received a patent for 400 acres, which appears in the Edgecombe records of 1755. He acquired 320 acres of land in Edgecombe Co. on 6 February 1740. On September 1741 William Reaves, Jr. and wife Hardy sold 220 acres on the forks of Crockeyott Creek. Over the following years he continued to buy and sell land in Edgecombe Co. In a deed of 8 March 1748 William Reaves, Jr. and wife Hardy (Council) Reaves sold more Edgecombe land. By 1749 William Reaves, Jr. got 350 acres of land on Fishing Creek, Granville Co. He bought land and sold additional land in Granville Co. and also in Orange Co., NC. On 19 August 1751 William Reaves got a deed from Giles Hedspeth for 320 acres on the south side of Great Creek with all improvements for 60 pounds current money of VA. On 3 September 1751 William Reves sold to Ralph Hedgepeth 220 acres in Granville Co. On 18 October 1751 William Reves sold to Francis Myrick, both of Edgecombe Co., for 60 pounds 320 acres on both sides of Great Creek, originally patented to Ralph Hedgepeth 11 April 1745. On 1 May 1752 William Reaves got a patent for 522 acres in St. John Parish on both sides of Fishing Creek and (SCC) sworn chain carriers were Malachi Reaves and his son William Reaves. By 29 August 1754, Malachi owned the 522 acres, which he sold to his brother James Reaves. On 13 January 1753 William Reaves sold 220 acres in Edgecombe Co. on the west side of Great Creek to Thomas Tucker of Edgecombe Co. for 20 pounds current money. In the early years of the 1750s, William Reaves' name appeared in a number of Orange Co. NC Court Minute records. William Reaves was listed on the 1755 tax list for Orange Co. with four white poles and zero black poles. Names appearing in the Orange Co. records that appear to be sons of William Reaves are: 1) William Reaves, Jr., August Court 1760 when he had Stock Mark recorded and 2) George Reaves, who got a deed for 200 acres recorded November Court of Orange Co. In 1762 a survey was made for 368 acres on both sides of Crabb Creek in Orange Co. for a William Reaves, Jr. as is recorded in Granville Land Patent books. This William Reaves is actually the III in the same family line.

James Reaves: He first appeared in May 1741 Court Edgecombe Co. as a witness. Thus he was at least 21 years old. In 1747 James Reaves got a deed for 200 acres on the south side of Great Quankey Swamp, Edgecombe Co. Recorded in May Court 1753, James Reaves and wife Millicent of Edgecombe sold this 200 acres on the south side of Quankey Creek to Bryant Edmondson. In 1754 James Reaves and wife Millicent convey 400 acres of land in Halifax Co. to John Eelbeck. On 20 August 1754 James Rives (Reaves) and wife Millicent of Edgecombe Co. and Malachi Rives sold to John Eelbeck for 60 pounds 100 acres, more or less on Great Quankee Swamp, Granville Co. On 29 August 1754 James Reaves got 522 acres from Milichi Reaves on the north side of Fishing Creek in Granville Co. In the Granville Co. tax list of 1755, James Rieves (Reaves) was listed with a son, Malichi and a total of two poles. On 30 March 1758 James Reaves and Malachi Reaves were witnesses to a deed for Jacob Perry to John Bass for 50 acres land on Fishing Creek. In November 1760 Court James Reaves and James Reaves, Jr. were named as SCC in a survey for 700 acres in Granville Co. Parish of St. John on both sides of Fishing Creek. In 1761 James Reaves was a SCC for a survey made on the north side of Fishing Creek for Thomas Bradford. In July 1761 James Reaves was a SCC for 318 acres survey for Robert Hicks on branches of Fishing Creek. Robert Hicks was an uncle of James Reeves, Jr., having married Sarah Reaves. On 9 September James Reaves and Jeremiah Reaves were witnesses to a deed for Jacob Perry to Luke Rawls for 150 acres on Fishing Creek, Granville Co. In the 1762 taxable lists. James Reaves was listed with son Jeremiah and one slave for three poles. On 7 November 1763 James Reaves and wife Milicent deed 200 acres of land on Fishing Creek to Malachi Reaves, their son. The 1764 tax list for Rowan County shows James Reaves and son William two poles. Son Jeremiah Reaves was listed separately with one pole. On 9 February 1767 James Reaves of Granville Co. sold about 200 acres on Fishing Creek to John Harris of Rowan Co. On the same date James Reaves bought from John Harris 320 acres on the south side of the Haw River. The 1768 tax list for Rowan Co. lists James Reaves, but sons Jeremiah and William are separately listed. They lived in the area that became Guilford County.

Malachi Reaves: Malachi Reaves of Granville Co. got a patent for 400 acres in St. John's Parish on Tabb Creek on 25 March 1749 he was not listed on the 1750 tax list for Granville Co. On 1 May 1752 Malachi Reaves was a SCC for a patent issued to William Reaves, his brother, who went to Orange Co., NC. On 29 May 1753 Malachi Reaves got 522 acres from William Reaves, his brother, on the north side of Fishing Creek. In 1754 Malachi Rieves (Reaves) was a SCC for a survey of 500 acres for Darwin Eelwick on both sides of Poplar Creek, Granville Co. On 29 August 1754 he sold this land (522 acres) to his brother James Reaves. On the Granville tax list of 1755 Malachi Reaves was listed with son William and one slave for three poles. On 30 March 1758 Malachi Reaves was a witness with his brother James Reeves to a deed for Perry to Bass. On the Granville Co. 1762 tax list, Malachi Reaves was listed with sons William and Jonathan in Fishing Creek District. Malachai Reaves, Jr., son of James was also listed in Oxford District. On 25 March 1763 Malachi Reaves gave a deed to William Hicks for 293 acres on both sides of Tabb Creek. William Hicks was a witness to the will of William Reaves, father of Malachai. On 2 January 1775 Malachi Reaves deeded to George Alston 170 acres on Tabb's Creek of Granville Co. Jonathan Reaves was a witness. On 7 August 1780 Malachi Reaves received a deed for a token amount from William Hicks, who was a witness to the will of his father, William Reaves, Sr. Editorial note: This token gift suggests that Fourton Reaves, wife of Malachi, may have been a Hicks.

Robert Jenkins Davis Family

by: Carol Davis Hall

Robert Jenkins Davis born 16 May 1819, probably in Warren County, NC, married Emily Frances N. Lyon, daughter of James T. Lyon and Susannah Wood, 3 Jul 1843 at Granville County, NC. R.A. Jenkins was a witness for the marriage and Robert Jenkins Davis served as surely for Robert Alexander Jenkins. Robert's mother was Elizabeth Jenkins and two of his sisters married men whose last name was Jenkins. This family probably has ties to the Jenkins family from the Northern Neck of Virginia. Robert Jenkins Davis died 20 Jun 1900 at Person County, NC. And was buried 2 Jun 1900 at what was called Hobgood Cemetery, Granville County, NC in a Cemetery Project for the Works Progress Administration (WPA). The cemetery is at the home property of what used to be the Roberson Hobgood farm. Roberson was married to Jane Catherine Lyon, sister of Robert's wife Emily Lyon.

Robert was living in Granville County up until 1845 when he bought 64 acres from John Lunsford executor of Samuel Yarbrough's estate.

Emily Frances N. Lyon, born on 27 Oct 1825 in Virginia, according to the 1900 census taker, died 7 Feb 1906 at Granville County, NC. She was buried 9 Feb 1906 at Hobgood Cemetery, Granville County, NC.

Many family members are buried either at the Methodist Church in Allensville, Person County or in Trinity Methodist Church Cemetery, which is just east of the Granville County line. The eight children of Robert Jenkins Davis and Emily Frances N. Lyon were:

i. Elizabeth Jannah, born 12 May 1847 at Person County, NC; married John Henry Clay Burch in 1867. She died in 1921. They had two daughters and a son.

ii. Caroline (Carrie), born 10 Mar 1850 at Person County, NC; married George W. Burch in 1869. They had two daughters who left no heirs.

vi. Robert Thomas, born 11 Oct 1860 at Person County, NC. He was listed in Robert Jenkins household in the 1870 census but was not in the 1880 census. The 1880 census did not turn up any Robert Thomas Davis born 1860 in NC.

vii. Charles Theodore, born Aug 1863 in Allensville, Person County, NC, died in 1947. He married Annie Mitchel in 1888. She had a son and a daughter and she died in 1890. Charles married Annie Royster in 1891. They had five sons.

viii. Emma Caddie, born 4 Nov 1868 at Person County, NC; married Durell Mangum in 1893. They had one son and one daughter. She died in 1948.

William Davis Family by: Wayne Davis

It is supposed that the earliest known member of this family is William Davis, born circa 1760 in Virginia, according to Sally Terry, who is a descendant of the family that moved to Alabama. There is strong coincidental proof that the Thomas born 1780 in Granville County, and the John born 1784 who moved to Alabama were brothers.

John married Lydda Lyon, who was born ca 1793, on 26 December 1812 in Granville County and the family moved sometime after 1831 to Alabama. Lydda was the daughter of John and Liddie (Billeasly) Lyon. There are many descendants of this Lyon couple living in the Creedmoor area today. They were originally from Charles County, Maryland.

John and Lydda both died in Liberty, Hale County, Alabama.

The eight children of John Davis and Lydda Lyon, who were all born in Granville County, were as follows:

i. William.

ii. Sarah (Sallie) born 1816.

iii. Mariah born 23 Nov 1818 and died 21 Feb 1897 at Havana, Hale County, AL, at age 78. She married Thomas Lavender in 1842.

iv. Harriette born 1820.

v. Marg T. born 1824.

vi. John Sidney born 1827.

vii. Edward Warren born 1829. He married Julia Ann Lawson.

viii. Martha Ann born 1831.

WILLIAM A. BLACKWELL FAMILY

by: Rachel Blackwell, Oxford, NC

Sources: Sarah Downey and family

The late William A. Blackwell was born in Granville County, 1872. It has been said that even at an early age, it was evident to many that his life would be devoted to the ministry, serving both God and mankind.

In his early youth, he attended the Berry Boyden Institute, Chase City, VA, and North Carolina College, Durham, NC. He taught in the Public School System for 26 years.

Rev. Blackwell was both influential and instrumental in the organization and nurturing of several churches: The New Grassy Creek, New Johnathan Creek, New Corinth, Whetstone, Vernon Hill, Mt. Gideon and Goshen Hills Baptist Churches. He offered guidance and spiritual comfort through his preaching/teaching style of ministry. In addition, he served as the secretary for the Middle Baptist and Country Line Baptist Associations.

For over 53 years, the Rev. W. A. Blackwell unselfishly dedicated his life to serving his God, his blood family, his church family as well as the community.

The inspiration that Rev. Blackwell received was two-fold. Of course, the Almighty God was his first source. The other came from his loving and committed wives.

First was Mary Strong, a devout God-fearing Christian woman, who bore him 12 children: Turner, Willie Lanson, George Nelson, Lorenzo (Sr.), Johnny (Sr.), Simon, Albert, (Rev.) Julian, Mary Bell (Thrope), Ester (Smith), Ida Zethro (Downey), and Sally Jane.

In addition to loving God and supporting her husband, she was a devoted and cherished mother. She and Rev. Blackwell were married for many years before she was called home to Glory. Mary Strong Blackwell was, and is today, loved by many.

Rachel Lee Brame became his second wife, having 6 children: Caleb, Pearline (Asbury), Sarah Lee (Downey), and Dorothy (Purdie), (Rev.) Julian, and Will Clark.

Rachel Brame (affectionately known in later years as "Mother Rachel"), joined the Flat Creek Baptist Church, Vance County at an early age.

She successfully completed course requirements, majoring in education at Hampton Institute, VA; Shaw University, Raleigh, NC; and North Carolina College, Durham (now North Carolina Central).

As a result of her efforts, Rachel was afforded the opportunity to reward others with her God-given talents as an educator. Clearly, this was a major accomplishment, considering the challenges of that era!

Countless persons were educated, motivated and encouraged (by both herself and Rev. Blackwell), affording those students an avenue to the world of possibilities and achievements that may otherwise have not been realized.

She married in 1921, reared children, purposely loving her natural born and "love born" equally. This, while continuing to effectively perform her teaching responsibilities.

Having taught in both the Vance and Granville County School Systems, Rachel retired from the Granville County System in 1945.

Rachel had joined the Grassy Creek Baptist Church, Oxford, NC upon moving to Granville County. Here also, she was greatly involved in the life of the church. She was the Assistant Sunday teacher, and diligently served as a member of the adult class, the Missionary Circle, Pastor's Aide and the FCA Club. Here again, her burning desire to positively affect the spirit of others was eminent. Truly she possessed the gift of encouragement.

Rachel Lee Brame Blackwell was a rare individual. Her uniqueness was preordained at birth. For after all, she took her first breath on Leap Day, February 29th. It would certainly be interesting to calculate the odds of this occurring!!

To know her, was to love, admire and respect her.

To the character of Rev. W. A. Blackwell, Mary Strong Blackwell, and Rachel Lee Brame Blackwell, it is evident that they loved God greatly, having powerful convictions of faith, even through turmoil, down times, strife and sometimes criticism, they stood for righteousness. May God bless their souls.

To each and every descendant:

- Realize the depth of your heritage.
- Dig deep to your roots.
- Strive to emulate your fore father's and mother's character, offering a monument to God and to your ancestry.
- Don't let your living be in vain.

Dear Lord, please bless this family by continuing the legacy via a lineage that honors, respects and reflects the essence of their existence. Amen.

Surviving (of those mentioned): Sarah Lee Blackwell Downey and Dorothy Blackwell Purdie.

by: Larry B. Bragg, Raleigh, NC

Their third child, John Henry Bragg purchased 400 acres in Granville county for 50 Shillings per acre, which he resold about four years later for 150 Pounds. THE BRANDON FAMILY

by: Bobby R. Evans, Greensboro, NC

Burwell Brandon, born in Virginia (circa 1785), relocated in 1830 to Granville County as a young man. The 1830 Granville County Census shows Burwell as a Free Colored Man able to read and write. He and his wife, Lucy, were farmers in the Fishing Creek community. They were blessed with five children: Betsey, Hilligard, Richard, Osh and Umstead Brandon.

After his first wife, Oney Peace died, Umstead Brandon, then age 60 married his second wife, Addie Stone, age 30 on March 25, 1896 in the Fishing Creek community. Umstead and Addie had six children: Liza, Zebidee, Cornelius, Richard, Carrie Lee and Mary Magalene. Addie died at the age of 54 and was buried at Ilong Baptist Church on October 25, 1921.

Cornelius and Beulah Mae Brandon were born December 25, 1899 and November 23, 1898 respectively. Cornelius married Beulah in 1918. They had nine children: Lorene, Cornelius Jr. (died at 16 months), Bertha, Naomi (died after a few days), Mary, Charlie, Monsie, Titus, and David. As their family grew, they moved to a five-room, unpainted farmhouse. It was a very sound frame structure and full of love with plenty of room for family visits.

Cornelius was a soft-spoken, strong father figure. He was firm, yet kind. He believed that a man's word should be his bond. Cornelius and Beulah were members of the Ilong Baptist Church where he was Deacon, treasurer and choir member and she was an usher. Cornelius was a member of the Beacon Light Lodge No. 249, Consistory No. 195 and Imran Temple No. 168. Beulah was a member of the Daughters of Isaac. They loved their children and they believed in God, family, education, and hard work. Their values have transcended generations.

Beulah loved to hide Easter eggs for her grandchildren. At Christmas, the family would gather to exchange gifts and give thanks to God for another year. Beulah would make a big dinner including pies, cakes, and corn pudding. Cornelius would brag about not ever having to work on his birthday. The reason was: he was born on December 25, 1899. When explaining life, he would sometimes say: "The world is like a barbershop; the guy with the sharpest razor does the most cutting." He believed "castor oil" was good for many ailments.

When the grandchildren were old enough, they helped harvest the tobacco. Cornelius would pick up the grandchildren on Sunday afternoon so they would be available on Monday at 3:00 a.m. to get tobacco out of the barn. Beulah had breakfast ready at 5:00 a.m. The bell rang at noon and everyone ate (they called it dinner). Cornelius always blessed the food before we started to eat. After dinner, there was a short break and then we went back to work.

Cornelius' oldest daughter, Lorene, chose farming as an occupation after marriage. His daughter, Bertha, tried farming for one year and decided it wasn't for her. Mary did public work. Charlie, Monsie and Titus went into the military and did public work after their tour of duty. David did public work and did not go into the military.

Cornelius and Beulah were "always there" for their children and grandchildren, always supportive and ready to make a sacrifice to support their family. When their daughter Bertha died at the age of 35 in 1959 and left a 15-year-old son behind, they quickly offered to let their grandson live with them while his father continued to commute weekly to his out-of-town job. The many examples of their support of their family are too numerous to cover in this article.

Cornelius farmed until around 1960, after which he worked on public jobs. Cornelius had always wanted to buy Beulah a new home and he did in 1962. They enjoyed their new home and always wanted the family to visit and spend the night. Cornelius died an unexpected and tragic death in 1968 as a result of a robbery at the service station where he worked. He was buried at the Ilong Baptist church on August 29, 1968. Cornelius' untimely death created an unimaginable void in the "fabric" of his family.

After Cornelius' death, their children made extra efforts to make sure Beulah was provided for. Beulah's new home soon became too much to take care of and she decided to let her oldest daughter take over the home in 1970. The next nine years, Beulah spent time traveling and visiting her children, spending the majority of that time living with her grandson, Bobby R. Evans, and his wife, Ophelia, and their daughter, Mechelle in Dayton, Ohio. Beulah liked Ohio, but she loved North Carolina because it was home.

The first Reunion for Cornelius and Beulah Brandon descendants was held in 1975. Beulah could not have been happier at the reunion because it was held at the new home she and Cornelius bought. She told the family: "Cornelius is smiling on us from heaven today." Family members came from all over the eastern part of the United States to attend the reunion. It was truly a great day for the Brandon family.

In 1979, Beulah started to show signs of what was later found to be the early stages of Alzheimer. She went back to North Carolina and lived periods of time with her daughters: Lorene and Mary and their families. When it was realized that Beulah needed experienced and around-the-clock care, Beulah went to the nursing home in Oxford, NC in 1982. Beulah died in Granville County on September 25, 1990 and was buried at Ilong Baptist Church.

Cornelius and Beulah Brandon left behind a legacy of love and Christian values that still live within their descendants today.

LEONARD HENDERSON KNOTT FAMILY

by: Susan B. Hall, Durham, NC

Leonard Henderson Knott (1876-1937) was born the 14th son of Fielding R. Knott (1827-1901) and his second wife, Sallie Ann Wilson Knott (1847-1922). Len Knott was married to Lula Puckett in 1898. There were five children born to this union: Mary Belle (b. 1899 - d. 1994), Edwin Moody (b. 1901; m. Lizzie Mae Ellington, 1929 - d. 1941), Helen Wilson (b. 1903; m. Clifton Dean, 1934; d. 1977), Fielding Randolph (b. 1905; m. Eugenia Husketh, 1930; d. 1961), and Stephen Talmadge (b. 1907; m. Mildred Jordan, 1935; d. 1969).

In 1911, Len Knott married Chloe O'Brian who raised the children from the first marriage as her own. There were also five children born to this marriage: Allan Soloman (b. 1914; m. Mary Lewis Skeen, 1939; d. 1986), Leonard Hubert (b. 1916, d. 1943), Rowena Meadows (b. 1920; m. William J. Berry, Jr. 1948), Carolyn O'Brian (b. 1922; m. Francis Ricks [Spike], 1952; d. 1968), and Julian Clarence (b. 1925, m. Celestia Barker, 1950).

Len Knott was given farm acreage from his father across SR 1162 from Enon Baptist. The first house he built on this property burned in the early 1900s and it was rebuilt around 1907 closer to the road. The second house is still standing and has been restored. While some alterations have been made to the exterior, the interior has remained faithful to the original house. Len Knott also had a three-room schoolhouse built in a field next to the house where seven of his children attended. The teachers at the school often boarded with the Knott family.

Education was important to Len and Chloe Knott and many of the children continued their schooling through secondary school and college. Mary Belle finished high school at the Oxford College around 1917 and the next year she began a 46-year teaching career. In 1946, she finished college at Atlantic Christian College (now Barton College) in Wilson, NC. Helen attended East Carolina Teachers College and also taught school before she married and had children of her own. Edwin attended Campbell Academy in Buies Creek, NC. Rowena finished at Women's College (now UNC-G) in Greensboro, as did Carolyn. Hubert completed college at North Carolina State College while Allan and Julian finished at the University of North Carolina.

Three of Len Knott's sons served their country in World War II. Allan served in the US Navy in the South Pacific Theater as a communications officer. Hubert learned to fly while still a student at North Carolina State College and joined the US Army Air Corps shortly after graduation. Captain Knott was stationed in Central and South America where he flew a B24 on reconnaissance missions over the Pacific Ocean. His plane went down on May 9, 1943 and while the site of the crash was located, they found only a damaged life raft, some bits of metal, and an oil slick. There were no survivors. Private Julian Knott was drafted into the US Army Infantry and saw action in the European Theater, including participation in the Battle of the Bulge.

Edwin, Fielding, and Stephen lived and worked their entire lives in Granville County. Edwin was part owner and manager of Owen Motor Company where Stephen also worked as an auto mechanic. Fielding moved to Creedmoor where he also worked as an auto mechanic. Mary Belle taught in several schools in eastern NC, living at one time in the teacherage in Saratoga. She later moved back to Granville County where she first taught at the Wilton School, and then completed her teaching career at Credle School. Helen taught in Kinston after finishing her teacher's training, and after her marriage, she and her husband, Clifton, purchased a tobacco farm adjacent to Tabbs Creek Baptist Church three miles from Oxford.

Allan moved to Durham where he had a long career with the Golden Belt Manufacturing Company, retiring in 1977 as Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of the company. Rowena also moved to Durham where she still lives. She worked at the American Tobacco Company and Central Carolina Bank before 1978, when she went to work with her husband in a family business. Carolyn had a long career as a home economics teacher in Littleton, NC before she died in 1968. Julian moved to Raleigh in 1956 where he was first an accountant and later a CPA with A.M. Pullen. He retired in 1987 as a partner with the accounting firm of McGladdrey and Pullen. Julian continues to live in Raleigh with his wife, Celeste.

In the 1920s and 30s, the effects of the Depression and the Granville Wilt hit Len Knott, as they did almost all tobacco farmers in the area. Because of farm, the family was able to live and eat, often providing for other members of the extended family. After Len Knott's death in 1937, his wife, Chloe, sold the farm to provide for the education of her children. She and the children still at home continued to live in the house at Enon until 1946 when she was able to build a house on Cherry Street in Oxford with the death benefits she received from her son, Hubert. Chloe continued to live on Cherry Street, with Mary Belle, until her death in 1968. Mary Belle lived there until 1992 when, at the age of 93, she moved to a retirement home and the house was sold.

Ten children, 11 grandchildren, and 14 great grandchildren survived Len Knott. While none of his children or grandchildren lives in Granville County today, they have maintained ties to Enon Baptist Church and return to the Enon community for the Fielding R. Knott family reunion every August.

PETTIFORD FAMILY

by: Mary F. Henderson, Oxford, NC

Extensive research has been put into finding the history of the Pettiford family of Granville County. Details are sketchy since back in the early 1800s/1900s, records were not kept as consistently or accurately as they are today. From my research, I have reason to believe that my great-great grandfather was William Pettiford, though further investigation is needed to prove this true.

William Pettiford (according to the census report of 1860) was born around 1803 in Virginia. He married Avarilla Guy Pettiford on April 7, 1842 and records indicate that his trade was that of a tanner. To this marriage it appears that there were either six or eight children; two of them may have been grandchildren. My maternal great grandfather, James "Jim" Pettiford was one of William's children who was born around 1853. He married at the age of 23 to Frances (Brandle?) Bandom, 22 years old, on November 9, 1876. This was also the same day one of his brothers got married. To this marriage the records indicate that there were five children: Alexander (Alex) Bandom Pettiford, Zeddie Pettiford (who was this writer's grandfather), Alford Pettiford, Lonnie Pettiford and Vilena Pettiford Hicks. "Jim's" second wife was Elsie Harris who died around 1950 and was buried at Mt. Moriah AME Zion Church off Highway #158 near Henderson, NC. Zeddie (3-1-1888--3-19-1958) was married to Emma Pettiford (b.10-13-1893 – d.3-5-1958) and to this marriage four children were born:

1. Jones Lee Pettiford (1924-1924)
2. Josephine Pettiford Owens (10-9-1925)
3. Clinton Lee Pettiford (2-26-1927- 11-12-2001)

4. Baby Girl Pettiford

Zeddie and Emma were my maternal grandparents and I was almost 12 years old when they died. I have fond memories of both of them, for they held a deep admiration for their family and home. They both loved Ilong Baptist Church and Pettiford Grove Baptist Church. I remember grandfather Zeddie praying those powerful prayers at church.

I recall the last home they lived in before their deaths was on the Cannady Mill Road, even though that has been 45 years ago. In the spring there were many roses adorning their yard and a narrow path that led from the house to Harris' Grocery Store. Of course, we never got tired of asking our grandfather for "pennies" to spend at the store. Grandfather Zeddie served in the Infantry Division of the Army and was honorably discharged. I do not remember him working outside the home, but my mother told me that he worked at a sawmill. My grandmother Emma was a domestic worker and was very well known in Pettiford Town to be the "seamstress" who made clothes for many people. I vividly recall her hot, delicious buttermilk "hoe-cakes", her homemade locust beer and her tea that was made from special leaves. Her ashcakes were also good. She would pull the hot ashes to the front hearth of the fireplace, and then after the ashcakes were made, she placed them in the hot ashes to cook. After they were done and before they were eaten, the ashes were wiped away.

My grandparents were two inseparable people who died exactly two weeks apart and are buried at Ilong Baptist Church cemetery in the Fairport community. Zeddie and Emma are truly missed and will be remembered through stories passed down through generations.

CHARLIE DAVID WINSTON FAMILY

by: Charles W. Dean (grandson), Oxford, NC

Charlie David Winston was born in Granville County NC on April 17th 1899. He was the oldest of eight children born to David Tuner Winston and Annie Ward Winston both of Granville County. Charlie was the grandson of Bridges Turner Winston and Mary Elizabeth Overby both of Granville Co.

While growing up in the Grassy Creek area of Northern Granville, Charlie along with his five brothers and two sisters helped with the day to day chores of family living. As they became older they would help their father with the many duties of running several farms. When Charlie completed his schooling in Granville County he went on to finish his secondary education at Buies Creek Academy in Buies Creek NC.

In the fall of 1918, Charlie enrolled at North Carolina State College and prepared to enroll in the Army Officers Program. At this time World War I was still going on. While in the fall semester of that same year Charlie narrowly missed death when the great influenza epidemic swept the nation. He was expected to die and was placed in a ward at the infirmary with others who were beyond help. While on the verge of death, he was visited by his father D.T. Winston who prayed to the Lord for his son's recovery. Through the family's strong faith in God and the Lord's everlasting grace, Charlie shortly thereafter made a full recovery. A short time after his recovery peace was declared and World War I was over.

Charlie, feeling what he had just narrowly escaped death left school to set out to see the country. He traveled to Canada where with his knowledge of tobacco helped Canadian farmers with the curing process. After a summer in Canada Charlie left and went to Detroit Michigan where he worked for several years as a trolley car operator in the city. During this time away from Granville County Charlie wrote his beloved mother and father on a regular basis.

After five years in Detroit he came home to Granville County to stay for good. He bought a farm and antebellum home, built in 1831 which was called Edgewood in the Grassy Creek community. During this time Charlie married the love of his life, his neighbor Helen Grey Elliott (b.05/24/1902-d.10/28/1976) of Adoniram NC which is now part of the Cornwall community.

Helen was the older daughter of Laurison Elliott and Emma Wilbourn Elliott. She was the granddaughter of Leroy Elliott and Laura Elliott. Charlie and Helen were married on December 17th, 1927 at the bride's home by the Rev. J.U. Teague, Pastor of Grassy Creek Baptist Church. Charlie and Helen had four children, Marion Winston Dean, Charlie David Winston Jr., Julian Warren Winston, and Elliot Ward Winston who died as an infant. Charlie and Helen were well liked and respected in the community. They were active and long term members of Grassy Creek Baptist Church, where Charlie served as Deacon, Sunday school teacher and clerk of the church. Helen also served the church well, as pianist and adult Sunday school teacher and in the Women's Missionary Union.

Throughout his life Charlie was a dedicated mason along with his father D.T. and his six brothers. They were members of the Adoniram Lodge in the Cornwall community. During those years of raising a family until his early 80's Charlie was a prominent tobacco farmer in Granville County. From his early beginnings in the mid 1920's Charlie worked hard to establish a tobacco and livestock farm. Every day of his life except for the Sabbath was spent working in those fields to help provide a living for the family. However, this could not be done without the love and support of a strong wife such as Helen. During these years Helen's sisters Opie and Gladys Elliott came to live with the family. Charlie and Helen were both honest, cheerful people who both shared their love of the Lord and Church. They both had a way of making everyone around them feel better with a kind word and a helping hand, even if you were a stranger.

Our family tradition that will always stay dear to our hearts was the Christmas Eve dinner that both Charlie and Helen planned every year. They would have Helen's family, (the Elliotts) over for dinner with all the adults and children gathering for this festive occasion. They would all eat and socialize before unwrapping the Christmas gifts that everyone brought. It was a most wonderful time for everyone.

Charlie and Helen had seven grandchildren, Rebecca Winston Desrosier Jean Marie Winston Borst, Julian Warren Winston Jr., Judy Winston Smith, Laura Dean Blackley, Sandra Dean Pruitt, Charles W. Dean. Also there are nine great-grandchildren, Lauren Marie Borst, Jeffrey W. Winston, Ashley Winston, Chelsea Winston, Evan Vienneau, E. Landon Blackley, Nash Dean Blackley, J. Scott Pruitt, and Harper G. Pruitt.

On October 28th, 1976 Helen age 76 died after a period of declining health. Having suffered this great loss Charlie moved forward in his life as a widower and held fast to his faith that the Lord would see everyone through times of great despair and anguish.

Pa Pa Winston retired from tobacco farming in his early 80's but still remained active on the farm. My grandfather lived another fourteen years in good health until his death March 1st, 1991 at the age of 91.

Grandfather and Grandmother are deeply missed by one and all. Truly they were the last of a special breed of people. The salt of the earth, the cornerstone of the family and community.

PHILLIP WHITE FAMILY OF WILTON

by: Hal Boyd Pickard, Knightdale, NC

When asked about his White ancestry, my grandfather used to laugh and say, "Our line is easy to trace. Until Papa, only one boy in each generation had children." He was correct for three generations.

Our line begins in NC with George White and his wife, Susannah Read, who migrated to Granville County from Mecklenburg County, VA. There is evidence that George White owned land in Granville earlier than 1768, but he may have maintained a residence in VA until 1784 when he purchased 1100 acres from Thomas Banks in the area of Granville, which is now Wilton. His son Phillip's descendants remained in this area until the 1940s.

In his 1790 will, George made bequests to his wife and to 10 children - 7 sons and 3 daughters. Children named were Mary White (married a Meginnes), William White (married Bathia Lyne and moved to TN), Ruth Read White (married Jesse Carter), John White (married Agnes Mayfield), Coleman Read White (married 1st Sela Bradford, 2nd Polly Cole), Phillip White, Ann Read White, Garrott White, Joshua White (married Rachel Allen) and Joseph White (married Nancy Mann). George had a mill, which he left jointly to four of his sons - Coley, Phillip, Garrot, and Joshua. The family Bible was left daughter Ruthey Read Carter.

Phillip White (1768-1845) was named coexecutor of his father's will and, after his mother's death, was to receive the 200 acres of dower land. On 7 February 1797, a marriage bond was issued to Phillip but unfortunately the name of the bride was omitted. In his will, he identified her as "Ann." Phillip and Ann White had three children: Holly White who married Lemuel Mitchell, William Read White, and Jackey White who married Gilford D. Sims and moved to TN. Ann was listed in her son's home in 1850, age ninety.

Before 1830, William Read White (c. 1789/9 -1884) married Frances "Frankie" E. Gill (1796/7- aft. 1870), daughter of Joseph and Mary Gill. They had two sons William Read White, Jr. who died young and William Philo White. William Read, referred to in the family as "Colonel Billy," was listed as a trustee on the deed for the land for Banks Chapel Church.

William Philo White (1836-1917), known in the community as Philo and to his grandchildren as "Pap," in 1858 married Nancy M. Mitchell (1837-1913), daughter of Booker Allen Mitchell and his wife, Elizabeth "Betsy" Hester. Philo and Nancy made several additions to the home located on the Philo White Road (SR 1623) in Wilton, where they raised their six children.

They were Elizabeth "Bettie" White (c1859-bef 1880 - did not marry), Mary "Mollie" White (1862-1933 - did not marry), Nancy "Nannie" R. White (1866-1943 - married Joseph Stephen Kirkland and had two sons, Loren and Julian), Sallie White (c1865-bf 1880 - did not marry), Phillip Allen White (1868-1936), and William Philo White, Jr. (1874-1944 - did not marry). At the 1911 dedication of the New Banks Chapel building, it was noted that Philo was one of eleven present who had attended the dedication of the old church some fifty-eight years earlier.

In a report to the County commissioners, dated Dec. 3, 1868, W.P. White stated that there was only one county owned school-house in School District no. 39, on county owned land and that W.R. White had the deed. He reported 200 school age children in the district - 70 white males, 62 white females. 37 colored males and 31 colored females.

William Philo White, Jr. and sister, Mollie remained at the home place throughout their lifetimes. After Uncle Philo's death, nephew Loren Kirkland bought his cousin's interest and moved to the property. The family graveyard was located at the side of the home, and Loren had the remains moved to Banks Chapel Cemetery.

Phillip Allen White (1868-1936) is the one who broke "the one male in each generation to have sons" pattern. In 1892, Phillip married Kate Moss Blackley (1874-1961), daughter of William Alexander Blackley and his wife, Eugenia Eveline Minnis. Through the years, Phillip and Kate had eight children - seven sons, one daughter. In order to have access to better tobacco producing land, in 1902, Phillip moved his family to the Zebulon area of Wake County. The first five of their children were born in Granville Co., the youngest three in Wake. Their children were:

1. Percy Livingston White (1893-1967), married Mae Elizabeth Southhall and had two sons and four daughters-Percy Livingston White, Jr., Mary Frances White, Evelyn Eugenia White, Dorothy Alease White, and Wilbur Allen White.
2. Williard Allen White (1895-1971) married Hoye Jones (no issue).
3. Halbert Francis White (1896-1973), married Evie Marie Scarboro and had a daughter and a son - Frances Marie White and William "Billy" Scarboro White.
4. Katie Bet White (1899-1940) married Louis Lambreth Liles and had one son, Jack White Liles.
5. Waldo Reid White (1901-1982) married Ruth Mayo Cherry and adopted a son Henry Lee (Jack) White.
6. Durward LeGrand White (1904-1993 - my grandfather) married Mary Elizabeth Eakins of Pender County and had a daughter and a son Mary Elizabeth "Beth" White and Phillip Eakins White.
7. Ashley Glenn White (1907-1974) married Loree Honeycutt and had one son, Ashley Daniel White.
8. Wallace Wilcox White (1913-1979) married Martha Marietta Whitely and had one daughter and three sons - Jeannette Moss White, Wallace Paul White, Phillip Allen White, and Willard Reid White.

Dear Ancestor

Your tombstone stands among the rest;
Neglected and alone.
The name and date are chiseled out
On polished, marbled stone.

It reaches out to all who care
It is too late to mourn.
You did not know that I exist
You died and I was born.

Yet each of us are cells of you
In flesh, in blood, in bone.
Our blood contracts and beats a pulse Entirely not our own.

Dear Ancestor, the place you filled
One hundred years ago
Spreads out among the ones you left
Who would have loved you so.

I wonder if you lived and loved,
I wonder if you knew
That someday I would find this spot,
And come to visit you.
